ABOUT THIS WORKSHOP

This is not a technology briefing. Over two days your leadership team maps where AI creates value in your specific business, builds the investment case on published research evidence rather than vendor promises, drafts a board level governance and risk policy, and leaves with a 90 day action plan carrying named owners, timelines and success metrics.

Every module includes a Live AI Moment: fifteen minutes where each executive personally uses AI on a real task from their organisation. Not to learn the tools, but to replace second hand opinion with first hand experience before making investment decisions.

WHO THIS WORKSHOP IS FOR

CEOs, Managing Directors, C-suite executives, business unit heads, and strategy leaders. No technical background required or expected.

No prior AI experience is required. Every activity runs on each participant's own real work rather than a case study, so the workshop suits mixed teams and mixed levels of confidence.

WHAT EVERY PARTICIPANT LEAVES WITH

- An AI ROI business case built on published evidence, not vendor promises

HOW WE TEACH

Every module includes a Live AI Moment where each executive personally uses AI on a real task from their organisation: a competitive briefing, a board ready business case summary, a governance policy draft. The evidence base is published research, not vendor claims, and every output produced is yours to take into Monday's leadership meeting.

An AI Leadership Certificate is issued digitally by Future Edge Institute within 24 hours, recognising active participation and output.

Delivered in house and priced per engagement. These workshops are commercial corporate training and are not government subsidised.
